	501(c)3- We were approved for the 501(C)3
Asset Builder Award	Ilwaco Industries- Ilwaco Industries is a student run venture that can create various printed media and screen printing services for organizations, businesses, or individuals in the community. The project was started in 2010 and all items are created by the students in their facilities at Ilwaco High School. Quality printed t-shirts and sweatshirts, posters, and banners are all examples of products that the students have produced. Ilwaco Industries is a great opportunity for students to learn technical and business skills, to participate in a course that might be pertinent to their interests, and students can apply directly what they are learning to real-world experiences in their future careers.
CIT	Geri Marcus asked to be approved for up to $1000.00 for the CIT training. She is getting donations and help from people who are interested in attending the training so not sure how much she would need to get to the cost of the training quite yet. The training is $3,500.00 for the two days and if need be can the coalition approved up to $1,000.00. There would be one day in North County and one day in South County.	Gloria moved that the coalition supports the training up to $1,000.00
Show and Tell	KLEAN was the show and tell for March. They are involved in many community events. They have 50 beds, 90% occupancy and employ 83 people. They have 2 sober living houses in Astoria, which is a 90-120 day outpatient program.	Johanna Gustafson and Lorrie Brinkerhoff
Superintendent	Jenny Risner filled us in on what is going on with the schools and a few different approaches they are looking at. We have two very good elementary schools, but they are very different. One is more hands on and one is has more of a traditional approach, it would be nice to close the gap between Long Beach and Ocean Park. She is trying to listen to the community wants and needs. The middle school has been through a lot of changes and transitions lately and there is an open position for a principal. The high school is very outdated and has attendance issues and quite a few kids who have the just don't care attitude. She would like to get a guidance and advisement counselor for the High School. For the school district she would like to get a parent engagement liaison so that families know what recourses are out there. She would also like to see more parenting classes and get a GED program over here so that people don't have to go to Astoria for it.

Officers	We are still in need of an at large and vice chair for the executive team and this was discussed. Jenny Risner said she was interested.
