Show and Tell- Geri Marcus

School and Willapa partnership- Geri said they are challenged with reaching kids and sharing resources. 1 counselor visits the highschool and 1 goes between the middle schools. Geri said it is very new on the front of melding services from counselors. Geri said there is great need for counselors and jr and high school kids is high. The need for counselors is actually higher then originally anticipated. The CD counselor Ashley is also visiting the schools. With the decline of funds for the schooling the partnership with Willapa was an answer to the counseling problem. Mark said that each school needs and would benefit from one or more counselors for the school district. Meredith added that the counselors bridge the gap between Rachel said that with the influx of students with needs, having counselors has been huge to the school climate. Geri is looking forward to summer break so the partners can assess and reevaluate the program.
